

Joann Yoon's references:

the one atty i had mentioned is someone whom i would highly recommend. she worked with the senior citizens project at legal aid and is now in private practice. she's a christian, and is just a really nice person. her name is adrienne ashby, and her number is 404-946-1901. she offers free consultations.

another referral source is through the atlanta bar association. the referral number is 404-521-0777, and people would need to call and request a wills/probate attorney. they'll be given an attorney to contact. some attys through the referral line will offer free consultations, but others charge about $35 for an initial consultation through the referral line.

the two websites i would recommend is for the georgia probate court: www.gaprobate.org and for general legal information, which is www.legalaid-ga.org
